With summer right around the corner, children everywhere are ready for a much-deserved break from school! After 10 months of learning and growing, what kid wouldn't crave some fun in the sun and some downtime to recharge? Summer break serves as an excellent opportunity to get the rest and relaxation necessary to foster mental health while encouraging physical activity in a way that most families just don't have time for during the school year.

Of course, there are some downsides to taking a few months off from school, with the most well-known being the dreaded "summer slide" in which students lose some of their previous learning due to a lack of practice. Just like we get out of shape when we don't exercise, the old idiom "use it or lose it" rings true when it comes to kids and learning.

At Kids Academy, we understand how crucial it is that children get a healthy balance of both rest and academic practice to support stress relief while preventing learning loss. This year, Summer Camp 2024 is offering you summer-long access to our Talented and Gifted app as well as Talented and Gifted Online and Kids Academy website resources at a sizzling price that you won't find the rest of the year! This way, your little learner can customize their summer learning by utilizing interactive, bite-sized lessons and activities, or take on a more comprehensive course depending on their needs.
